

This has been it . . . 1967 . . . finally--at last . . . finished and ohhhhh what a year of happenings! Problems? We encountered them all . . . we tried to squeeze five pictures over one page and one picture over five . . . Then we tried to get up at 7:00 a.m. on Saturdays and stay late on our summer vacation . . . And whatever happened to the leak in our ceiling, Mr. Hunter?

Some staff members came through with a "good show" . . . especially Iris Meltzer, Sharon Wisniewski, Cheryl Stilgenbauer, Linda Knuth, and Doug Scheel . . . whoever was the sports editor, anyway?

Then it wouldn't have been possible without SOMEONE knowing how to use the Rolliflex . . . special "thank yous" to Jim VanOver, Pat Hayes, and Jay Rouman.

The 1967 Derrick is finished . . . but a few last people deserve thanks and praise for "sticking" with us . . . to the very bitter end . . . Mrs. Edgar G. Weber, Mrs. Brill, Mr. Emling, most of all Ray Figg, the representative from American Yearbook Company, and to Sue Dawe.
