

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

IN the fall of 1917 we came to the High School as Freshmen. We had no terrible initiation to look forward to with fear, for that custom had been abolished the year before but of course the unaccustomed surroundings made us a little timid. In a few days, however, we began to feel quite at home.

At our first class meeting Bernard Woodruff was elected president; Phyllis Haggarty, vice-president; Carl Wile, secretary; and Verna Vedder treasurer.

The annual Freshman party was the next problem which came before us. We chose for our colors gold and white but because of the war the class wisely decided to have neither decorations or refreshments. The affair took place in the early part of November and was a great success.

Our class was well represented in athletics even during our Freshman year and there is no doubt as to the part our boys will play in the future.

Of course in 1918 when we returned to school we felt very much older and more dignified. We looked down upon the frightened, wondering members of the beginner's class with amusement forgetting that we were once only "freshies".

In a short time we held a class meeting and the following officers were chosen: Glen Brookens, president; Carl Wile, vice-president; Ella Pearce, secretary; and Iden Francis, treasurer. Marion DeVinney was chosen to be the member of the student council.

Several of our men have played on both the football and basketball teams and have done fine work.
