

Yearbook

The holiday party is an annual event that happens in yearbook. Every year a few yearbook students head to the dollar tree to find "amazing" gifts for the white elephant gift exchange. Yearbook staff member Riley Martin (Above) won a button that she can put on her desk. Tyra Denman (Top middle) unwrapped a Rudolph nose and wore it the whole party. The star of the show was Grace Flaherty (Middle) who won a roll of Charmin toilet paper.

Below: Reviewing the Halloween page is Matti Hammond and Ellie Beltinck. This yearbook was the second book that both of them have worked on and they were both very helpful in the class.

Above: The Editors-in-chief for the 2021-2022 were seniors Alexis Fox and Nola Boyle. Alexis has been in yearbook for three years and Nola has been in yearbook for two. They have worked on many pages together this year and last year. Nola said that she loves having Alexis as her co-editor because "she's easy to collaborate with and is always ready to work."
